From the desk of the Garrison Commander

Commander discusses renaming road, POM Annex

Hello all,

Last week on Jan. 29, we honored a great individual, retired Army Lt. Gen. Jim Moore, by renaming North-South Road to GEN Jim Moore Blvd.

The general was a great soldier and a former Commander of Fort Ord. He fought very hard to keep Fort Ord open, but when the decision was made to close the base, he fought equally hard to transition the base properly. It is important and right that we remember one who has done so much for our country and in particular, Fort Ord.

We are also in the midst of a process to rename the Presidio of Monterey Annex to Ord Military Community. We are expecting the request action to be acknowledged/ approved very soon. The purpose of this action is to keep the name of Ord associated with the area. Once completed, we will be changing the appropriate signage.

Thanks for listening.

Defense Secretary explains anthrax vaccine program

Cohen defends program necessity, outlines points of his decision process

By William S. Cohen
Secretary of Defense

One of the clearest responsibilities of any secretary of defense is to protect the men and women the United States deploys in harm's way around the world to safeguard our national interests. That is why I, acting on the advice of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, decided to start vaccinating every member of the military against exposure to anthrax, a highly lethal biological agent that at least 10 countries possess in their arsenals or are in the process of acquiring.

In 1996, the Joint Chiefs of Staff identified anthrax as the number one biological threat to our troops. After the Gulf War, United Nations inspectors confirmed that Iraq had produced thousands of gallons of anthrax and deployed it in missile warheads, artillery shells and spray tanks for use from airplanes. As a weapon of mass destruction, anthrax is cheap and much easier to develop than nuclear munitions. When dispersed in aerosol form, the colorless, odorless bacteria covers a wide area and kills people within several days of inhalation. In 1979, approximately 70 Russians died after breathing anthrax spores that escaped from a Soviet biological research facility.

Fortunately, Iraq did not use anthrax against our troops during Desert Storm in 1991, but we can't expect that future adversaries, including terrorists, would not do so. At a time when the United States maintains clear conventional military superiority, enemies will be tempted to turn to unconventional weapons, such as anthrax, as a way to defeat our troops.

Although anthrax is highly deadly, we have developed protective equipment and medicines to secure the safety of our troops. In 1970, the Food and Drug Administration licensed a vaccine to protect humans who might be exposed to anthrax. This vaccine has a proven safety record over 30 years of use by thousands of veterans, woolworkers and veterinarians. Protective gear provides only temporary protection, while the vaccine constantly protects troops who might breathe anthrax spores spread on the battlefield.

After evaluating the anthrax threat and the safety of the vaccine, the general who commands U.S. troops in the Middle East requested that all troops deployed to the Arabian Gulf area be vaccinated for anthrax protection. Every day approximately 20,000 U.S. soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines stationed in the Gulf awake knowing that they could encounter an anthrax attack. The commander of the 37,000 U.S. troops in South Korea, who face an anthrax threat from North Korea, also requested vaccinations for his forces.

The Joint Chiefs reviewed these proposals in light of their conclusion that anthrax is the foremost biological threat to our troops. They recommended mandatory anthrax vaccination for all 2.4 million active and reserve members of our military, with the first shots going to troops in or scheduled to go to the Middle East and Korea. They reasoned that force protection should not be optional; just as it is inconceivable to allow a soldier to fight without a helmet, it makes little sense to send a soldier into battle without protection against a known threat like anthrax. Because our military must be able to deploy anywhere on short notice, they recommended vaccinations for all active and reserve personnel.

I supported the recommendation of our military leaders. But before launching the vaccination program, I took steps to make sure that we were prepared. Complaints that the Department of Defense mishandled exposure to Agent Orange and the illnesses suffered by some veterans following the Gulf War in 1991 damaged the military's credibility on medical issues. We have worked hard to correct and learn from these experiences, and one of the lessons is that our medical programs to protect soldiers in battle must be planned and implemented with an emphasis on safety.

As a result, I decided to delay vaccinations until four conditions were met. First, I ordered supplemental testing, consistent with FDA standards, to assure that the vaccine supplies are sterile, safe, potent and pure. Second, I instructed the services to design a system that accurately tracks personnel who received the six shots required in the vaccination program. Third, I required the services to develop plans for educating people about the program and administering the immunizations. Finally, I ordered an independent review of the health and medical protocols of the program. This was performed by Dr. Gerald Burrow, the highly respected former dean of the Yale Medical School, who assisted the Presidential Advisory Committee on Gulf War Veterans' Illnesses.

The vaccinations began in 1998 after these four conditions were met. Gen. Hugh Shelton, the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs, and I were among the first to receive the shots. We experienced the same mild side effects, such as temporary soreness or a small bump on the arm, that many others feel. Indeed, the side effects are frequently less than those caused by other routine vaccinations that most Americans routinely receive. Our careful monitoring of the program reveals no unexpected side effects. Nevertheless, if our troops experience a negative reaction, we provide quality medical care.

More than 400,000 active duty soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines have started receiving the series of six shots, while only about 300 have refused vaccinations. We take seriously the concerns that people have raised about the program, and we are in the process of distributing additional educational material to explain the program to military members and their families. We have bolstered our website, www.anthrax.osd.mil, to counter some of the erroneous assertions about the vaccine that are circulating on the Internet. We are continuing to monitor the safety of our vaccine supplies.

The military does not want to lose a single member because of his or her concerns over this program. But most of all, we don't want to run the risk of losing thousands of men and women in uniform from an anthrax attack for which we are unprepared.

The threat is real, and we are carrying out a prudent, safe program to counter the dangers our troops face. (Courtesy of American Forces Press Service, For more information, visit the anthrax vaccination program website at www.anthrax.osd.mil.)

Couples workshop scheduled for March 4

A couples workshop, sponsored by Army Community Service and the Navy Family Service Center, is scheduled for March 4, 8:45 a.m.-3 p.m., at the General Stilwell Community Center.

Research shows successful couples have specific communication tools – techniques any couple can learn. "Fighting for Your Marriage," the PREP® Approach, is not therapy; couples will not be asked to talk about their personal concerns in the group.

This workshop is for married or engaged couples who want to learn in a workshop format how to keep fun, friendship and intimacy alive; find a loving way out of disagreements; solve problems through teamwork; and deepen commitment to each other.

Free childcare is provided.

Registration is required. Call 242-7653 or 242-7660 for information and registration.

Business workshop scheduled for March 11

SCORE, the Service Corps of Retired Executives, is offering opportunities to attend a workshop designed for people starting a business and for people with existing businesses in early start-up.

The workshops, sponsored by Army Community Service, are scheduled for March 11 and April 8, 10 a.m.-noon at the Stilwell Community Center.

The content is the same for each of the workshops.

The program will offer expert advice on subjects including qualifications for being in business, financing alternatives, business licenses and permits, marketing and market research, legal forms of business, business plan basics, insurance and taxes.

Preregistration is required. For more information or to register, call Army Community Service at 242-7660.

Presidio Police offer advice on crime prevention issues

The Presidio of Monterey Police Department offers the following crime prevention tips:

In the workplace

Keep your purse, wallet or other valuable items with you at all times or locked in a drawer or closet.

Check the identification of any stranger who ask for confidential information or any delivery or repair persons who want to enter an area restricted to employees.

Be discreet. Don't advertise your social life or vacation plans — or those of your fellow employees — to strangers visiting your place of work.

Park in well-lighted and well-traveled areas.

If you must work late or at odd hours, walk with a group or ask another employee, charge of quarters to escort you to your car.

If you notice any suspicious persons or vehicles, notify security personnel or police. Trust your instincts and never hesitate to report anything that makes you feel uneasy.

What if you do become a victim?

Stay calm, try not to panic or show any signs of anger or confusion. Try to compose an accurate description of the assailant to help police. Report all crimes to the police immediately. For your own sake, and to protect others, take the time and effort to pursue your case through the courts.

Take action today:

Assess your workplace's vulnerability to crime. Look at access control, locks and doors, visibility, lighting, parking arrangements and secure places for employees' belongings. Give suggestions to your supervisor or management. If a coworker is a victim of a crime, be supportive. Help with things like getting to court and contacting a victim service program in your area.

In and around parking lots

Do not leave items of value in view. Luggage, packages, or purses sitting in your car are "begging to be stolen." Take the trouble to lock them in your trunk. Better still, do not leave them in your car at all.

Mount compact disc players, tape decks, equalizers, and telephones out of sight. Whenever possible, take them with you to your barracks or lock them in the trunk. Use slide mounts and a portable antenna for easy removal.

Mark self-installed items with your drivers license number. If you are "ripped off" and the stolen items are recovered by the police, they will be readily identified as yours.

Record all serial numbered and high dollar items on DA Form 4986, Personal Property Record, and keep the form in a safe place.

Never leave your driver's license, vehicle identification papers, credit cards, or checkbook in your car. A thief can misuse these items.

Do not forget to roll up all windows and lock your doors. The use of tapered door lock buttons can help prevent the use of coat hangers to unlock your doors.

A thief needs two things to be successful: A desire to steal and the opportunity to complete the act. Let's eliminate the opportunity.

If you notice any suspicious activity and crime in your neighborhood, call the Presidio of Monterey Police Department immediately at 242-7851, 242-7852 or 242-7853.

Call 911 in emergency or immediate danger.

Studies show diet, exercise can lower cancer risk

There is scientific proof that approximately one-third of the cancer deaths in the United States can be attributed to diet, according to the American Cancer Association. A diet that includes a high proportion of fruits, vegetables, grains and beans but limited amounts of meat, dairy and high-fat foods — when combined with a healthy body weight and a sensible exercise routine — can reduce the risk of cancer and promote overall good health.

Listed are some healthy diet and lifestyle choices recommended by the American Cancer Association:

- ☐ Choose food that comes from plant sources
- ☐ Limit intake of high-fat foods, particularly from animal sources
- ☐ Maintain a healthy weight and routine exercise program
- ☐ Limit consumption of alcoholic beverages.

No diet can guarantee full protection against cancer, but a healthy diet and exercise program at any time from childhood to old age can reduce cancer risk. (Courtesy of Army News Service and Irwin Army Community Hospital at Fort Riley, Kansas)

SJA office provides series of tax tips for military

The following are a portion of the tax tips provided by the Staff Judge Advocate's office created for military personnel. The series of Tax Tips will continue through much of the tax preparation season.

TAX TIP: What is the filing date for taxpayers overseas? If you primarily live and work outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico on 15 April 2000, you have until 15 June 2000 to file your return. Simply put on the outside of your envelope: "Outside the U.S. on 15 April 2000," to take advantage of the automatic extension. NOTE: Taxpayers who are merely traveling outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on 15 April 2000 are not entitled to an automatic two-month filing extension.

TAX TIP: If my move to a new assignment began in 1999 and ended in 2000, when do I file my moving expenses? You have two choices - file them all on your 1999 tax return, or file your 1999 expenses on your 1999 return and your 2000 expenses on your 2000 return. Moving expenses are now an adjustment to gross income and no longer include certain indirect moving expenses. See the Moving Expense Deduction flyer for more information.

TAX TIP: What form do I use to file for my moving expenses? Form 3903 if your move was to or within the U.S., and Form 3903F if your move was outside the U.S. or its possessions.

TAX TIP: How long do I have to reinvest my gain from the sale of my old personal residence into a new personal residence if I sold a home before 07 May 1997? Civilians have two years (four years if overseas), and military members have four years (stateside or overseas). This replacement period is suspended while military members are stationed outside the United States. NOTE, however, that the replacement period, plus any period of suspension, cannot last more than eight years after the sale of the home.

TAX TIP: How much of a charitable contribution can I deduct without itemizing? None, you can only take charitable contribution deductions by itemizing on the Schedule A, Form 1040.

TAX TIP: How can I claim the out-of-pocket expenses I incur in traveling from place to place during my workday? You use the Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses, and Schedule A, Itemized Deductions, and list your actual travel expenses or apply a flat 32.5 cents per mile if you use your POV before 01 April 1999 and 31 cents per mile for use of POV after 31 March 1999.

For more information on federal income tax filing, contact your unit tax representative.

Sailors and Marines getting SMART

The Sailors Marine Automated Registry Transcripts program has been providing recommended college credits for military training and occupational experiences to Sailors and Marines upon request since October. SMART is an academically accepted record that is validated by the American Council on Education. To obtain your personal copy, stop by the Education Office for a request.

Soldiers go for AARTS

The Army/American Council on Education Registry Transcript System has provided over 100,000 free transcripts to soldiers, veterans and colleges worldwide since 1987. AARTS is the only transcript service to document a soldier's military experience, course completions, and educational testing. All transcript data is reported by computer directly to the AARTS operation center from the US Army Personnel Command, Service Schools Educational Testing Service, American College Testing Program, and ACE. Request forms are available at the Education Center.

Regents College lowers cost

New York Regents College has lowered its enrollment cost by $100 until March 15. The Regents College Bachelor of Science degree in Liberal Arts is the most popular external degree program for Presidio of Monterey service members. Those students who can finish all remaining N.Y. degree requirements within one year, can reduce their enrollment fee from $655 to $555. This fee will cover the cost of processing your enrollment form, an evaluation of all submitted official academic records, academic advising, and program planning services for a period of one year. # Presidio of Monterey Theater

Located on Stilwell Road near Soldier Field and High Street Gate

Adults, 12 and up, $3.50

Children, 6-11, $2

Children will be charged $3.50 for G-rated and matinee movies. Movie schedule subject to change.

372-1249

Anna and the King, starring Jodie Foster and Chow Yun-Fat. English schoolteacher Anna has done something that women of the Victorian age simply never do: She has traveled thousands of miles with her son to a land that is largely unknown to the Western world, Siam. Anna has been employed to educate the king's 58 children. PG-13

Dogma, starring Matt Damon and Ben Affleck. Two renegade fallen angels attempt to Jerry-rig the entire cosmological system unless a ragtag group of humans can stop them. Loki and Bartleby are searching for a way out of everlasting exile in Wisconsin when they stumble upon the perfect return to paradise: a loophole in church dogma that will allow them to reenter Heaven, but if they succeed, they'll obliterate all human existence. R

Man in the Moon, starring Jim Carey and J. Alan Thomas. This is a biographical movie on the late comedian Andy Kaufman, an eccentric comedian who played Latka on TV's "Taxi." R

Deuce Bigalow: Male Gigolo, starring Rob Schneider and William Forsythe. Deuce is a down-on-his-luck guy who cleans fish tanks for a living. While fish sitting for a world-class male escort, he is told not to answer the phone. He does and becomes Deuce Bigalow, male gigolo. R

Toy Story 2, animated. The fun and adventure continues when Andy goes off to summer camp and the toys are left to their own devices. Things shift into high gear when an obsessive toy collector kidnaps Woody, who unbeknownst to himself is a highly valued collectable. G

The Bicentennial Man, starring Robin Williams and Sam Neill. In the first decade of the new millennium, Richard Martin buys a gift, a new NDR-114 robot. The product is named Andrew by the youngest of the family's children. The robot is purchased as a household appliance programmed to perform menial tasks, but the Martin family soon discovers they don't have an ordinary robot. PG

Any Given Sunday, starring Al Pacino and Dennis Quaid. Drama about the interlocking fates and experiences of a diverse group of people involved with a professional sports franchise. The destinies of coach, owner and team members reach a climax in the playoff season. R

The Green Mile, starring Tom Hanks and David Morse. Paul Edgecomb is a slightly cynical veteran prison guard on Death Row in the 1920's. R

Rental boats, whale watching now available

Want to place an ad?

Explanation of classified ad policy

The following information is provided to explain and clarify policy for individuals who would like to publish classified ads in POM-Mart.

Military members, retirees and Department of Defense civilian employees with valid identification cards are authorized to place classified ads in the Community News.

To place an ad in the Community News, complete the form on the back page of the Community News and deliver it to the Public Affairs Office, Building 614, Room 142, Presidio of Monterey, 93944. Ads may also be sent via e-mail to the editor at wright@pom-emh1.army.mil. Individuals should be sure to include all information requested on the form, including the category of the ad.

Daytime work telephone numbers are for use by Community News staff only; they will not be listed in ads. Individuals may place up to three ads per household in ~~different categories per issue~~. Each ad should not exceed 35 words; itemized property for sale should be valued at least $10.

The Community News staff will make every effort to publish ads accurately, but we reserve the right to edit ads to meet readability, format and space requirements. Report typographical errors to the editor, and they will be corrected in the next available issue.

Acceptable classified ads include items in the categories of Autos; Motorcycles; Trucks, Vans, Sport, RVs; Wanted; Sports Equipment; Entertainment, Music Items; Computers and Accessories; Lost and Found; Miscellaneous; Pets or Household Items. Items must be for one-time sale or for free – not for a profit-sharing venture of multiple items. The Community News does not take responsibility for items advertised.

Classified ads for businesses, rentals, free information, help for hire or tutoring, or illegal items are not authorized. Each ad will be published in three consecutive issues unless it is renewed or cancelled.

The date the ad was first published or renewed is printed in parentheses following each ad. For example, ads dated (01-28) will continue to run through the Feb. 25 issue. Classified ads may be renewed or cancelled by phone; however, new ads, additions or major changes to ads must be done in writing before the Wednesday deadline for the next issue. Deadlines are generally a week and a half prior to the next publication. When calling in reference to an ad, be sure to identify the category, first few words of the ad, phone number as printed and the date following the ad.

Deadline for the Feb. 25 issue is Wednesday; deadline for the March 10 issue is March 1.

Refer questions concerning this policy to the editor of the Community News at the Public Affairs Office, at 242-5104 or 242-6426.
